AGENDA

DAY 1
Monday, 12 December

9:00 - 9:30  Registration

9:30 - 9:45  Welcoming Remarks
Stephen Sherlock (CDI), I Ketut Putra Erawan (IPD)

9:45 - 10:00  The Purpose of the Workshop
Opening Remarks: Edward Aspinall (ANU)

10:00 - 10:30  Clientelism and Patronage
What do we mean by these terms? What are the main patterns across Southeast Asia? What is the state of the scholarly literature? What are the main research challenges?
Opening Remarks: Paul Hutchcroft (ANU)

10:30 - 11:00  Coffee Break

11:00 - 11:30  Clientelism and Patronage (continued)

11:30 - 12:30  Money Politics and Vote Buying
What do we mean by these terms? What are the main patterns across Southeast Asia? What is the state of the scholarly literature? What are the main research challenges?
Opening Remarks: Meredith Weiss (State University of New York, Albany)
Edward Aspinall (ANU)

12:30 - 1:30  Lunch

1:30 - 2:30  Researching Vote Buying, Money Politics and Clientelism
What sorts of methods are being used around the world to study these topics? What is the state of play on survey and other quantitative research methods? What about qualitative research?
Opening Remarks: Allen Hicken (University of Michigan)
2:30 - 4:00  The Philippines
How do clientelism, vote buying and money politics operate in the Philippines? What sort of research has been done and what is left to do in the future? What is the potential for survey research and/or qualitative research?
Opening remarks: Ronald Holmes (De la Salle University & Pulse Asia)
Julio Teehankee (De La Salle University)

4:00 - 5:00  Brainstorming Session
Summarizing the day and brainstorming future research agendas.

DAY 2
Tuesday 13 December

9:00 - 10:30  Indonesia
How do clientelism, vote buying and money politics operate in Indonesia? What sort of research has been done and what is left to do in the future? What is the potential for survey research and/or qualitative research?
Opening Remarks: Burhanuddin Muhtadi (Lembaga Survei Indonesia)
Sandra Hamid (The Asia Foundation)
Danang Widoyoko (Indonesia Corruption Watch)

10:30-11:00  Coffee Break

11:00-12:00  Thailand
How do clientelism, vote buying and money politics operate in Thailand? What sort of research has been done and what is left to do in the future? What is the potential for survey research and/or qualitative research?
Opening Remarks: Noppadon Kannika (ABAC Poll Research Center & Assumption International University)
Prajak Kongkirati (ANU & Thammasat University).

12:00-1:00  Lunch

1:00- 2:00  Malaysia
How do clientelism, vote buying and money politics operate in Malaysia? What sort of research has been done and what is left to do in the future? What is the potential for survey research and/or qualitative research?
Opening Remarks: Ong Kian Ming (UCSI University)
Meredith Weiss (SUNY, Albany)

2:00 – 3:00  Brainstorming Session
Summarizing the workshop and sketching future research agendas

3:00-3:30  Coffee break

3:30 – 5:00  Writing Workshop.
Participants break into groups to start rough preparation of research proposals